Chief Trapped, Rescued; 50 Flee In Rupert Fire

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—The Clapp Block, pioneer business and apartment building, and the adjoining Shortridge Apartments and an army garage were destroyed by fire early today with loss estimated at $100,000.

Fire Chief H. T. Lock is in hospital suffering from smoke and shock after being trapped in the basement, and many other firemen suffered minor burns, bruises and abrasions in the five-hour battle to subdue the flames.

Attlee Charges Churchill With Loose Criticism

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee accused Winston Churchill today of directing a "torrent of abuse" at his administration without offering a "drop of policy."

Addressing the Scottish Trades Union Congress here, Attlee struck back bitterly at the Conservative Party leader's Prime League speech in London a week ago in which Churchill said "the Socialist government are living upon the American dole."

"This," Attlee asserted, "from the man who again and again has paid tribute to the great assistance we received in the war from lend-lease."

FOOD NEEDED

"He says the American loan could only be justified as a means of equipping our industries. What does he mean? Does he mean that we are wrong to use it to buy food from the only place we can get it? If he does, let him say so."

Attlee, replying to Churchill's criticism of the policies of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Hugh Dalton, charged that when Churchill himself was Chancellor in the Baldwin cabinet of 1924 he "inflicted untold misery upon the people of this country" with a program which led to the "crisis in the coal industry from which we are suffering today."

Churchill, said Attlee, was "the most disastrous Chancellor of the century... He sinned, no doubt, in his innocence. But much of our troubles today can be traced back to that error of ignorance."

Of Churchill's complaints that the government was "scattering and squandering" the Empire, Attlee said he did not believe that in the United States "there is any support for the obsolete imperialism that Mr. Churchill seems to support."

"The fact is that on this subject Mr. Churchill never thinks; he only gives way to his emotions," Attlee added. "But in doing so he does a bad service to this country."

Meat Shortage As Crowds Line Up; Stores Sold Out

Shoppers switched from butter queues to meat queues this morning as butchers reported the worst week of the present meat shortage.

"We sold out by 9:30 this morning as far as roasts and such meats are concerned; all we have left is some minced beef and bologna," said Reginald Williams, of Williams Meat Market, president of the Retail Meat Dealers' Association.

"There has been a shortage of meat for the past two months but this week it was more acute than ever."

According to Mr. Williams the "packer cannot buy the beef to sell at a profit at the present price ceilings, so is just not bothering to market it." Packers report costs of production up, he said.

"I think the shortage is general all over town. Most retailers are selling out early today."

Only rays of sunshine in the gloomy meat picture, is the forecast by wholesalers that the shortage may be over by August.

Fifty occupants of the two apartment buildings, located at the corner of Second Avenue and McBride Street, escaped without injury through smoke-laden halls.

Fire Chief Lock was trapped in the basement by the sudden collapse of floors and walls in the Clapp Block. He was rescued by Police Chief L. A. N. Potterton, who fought his way through burning debris.

The Clapp building, in addition to twelve apartments, also housed the large second-hand store of George J. Daves and the cabinet and upholstery shop operated by B. J. Lovin. The Shortridge Apartments was a smaller structure. Prince Rupert's $200,000 Civic Centre, situated immediately across the street from the destroyed buildings, appeared in imminent danger for a time, but was saved by careful watching.

The Clapp building was owned by L. C. Eby and the Shortridge Apartments by W. H. Shortridge. Cause of the fire appeared obscure. It broke out in the basement of the Clapp Block, where lumber was stored. It had made considerable headway before it was discovered. The firemen were at another fire in the business section at the time. An army truck was destroyed in the garage.

ROUSED SLEEPERS

The fact that Mrs. Charles M. Lowen, one of the occupants of the Clapp Block apartments had sat up late to read may have been instrumental in the saving of life. She detected smoke, soon found the building was afire, and rushed from apartment to apartment, rousing the sleeping dwellers, who dazedly hurried out.

Praised for her efforts was Mrs. Don Forward, wife of the Civic Centre director, who provided clothing and prepared welcome potions of hot coffee for the dispossessed as they fled from their burning homes. Mrs. Forward's own home was imperilled for a time as the flames blistered walls of the Civic Centre and cracked 35 windows.

Threat To Gigli

ROME (AP)—Tenor Beniamino Gigli has been threatened with death by unknown persons, Italian newspapers said today. Gigli's family has received anonymous letters and telephone calls declaring the singer would be killed as soon as he returned to Rome from a tour in Switzerland, the reports said.

Gigli recently gave evidence in Rome's penal court against members of a famous gang, and the press reports stated it was believed other members of the gang were seeking revenge.

Mayor Prophesies 46 Mills For Victoria Tax Rate This Year

Little hope of the 1947 mill rate getting below the 46 mill mark was indicated by Mayor Percy George this morning after the City Council had concluded four consecutive days on city estimates.

"The mayor said that although this will mean a four mill increase in taxes, it is essential that civic services be maintained and necessary maintenance work carried on, although virtually all new work will have to be held over for more propitious times."

He said the big difficulty in any attempt to forecast what the mill rate might be, lay in the new salary schedule, which is slated to be brought in by the civic service committee before the mill rate is set. "That is the dark horse," the mayor said. "I

First Picture Of Mysterious Antarctic 'Oasis'

Above is a glimpse of one of the most imagination-stirring discoveries made recently by the Byrd Antarctic Expedition—a large ice-free area dotted with multi-colored lakes, in a region hitherto considered to be perpetually under an ice cap and blanketed by snow. Photo shows second of two such "oases" found, located in the Vestfold Mountains on the Ingrid Christensen coast of Antarctica.

No Immediate Rise In Milk To Consumer

The Provincial Government today increased the milk price paid to primary producers in Greater Victoria by 40 cents a hundred pounds, but this will bring no immediate increase in the retail price.

The price increase was effected by the passing of an order-in-council effecting an order of the province's one-man Milk Board, E. C. Carr, Mr. Carr and a delegation of producers discussed the proposal with the provincial cabinet.

The Milk Board will launch an immediate survey of milk distribution in Greater Victoria before making any possible changes in the consumer prices which have already risen twice during the past year following removal of Dominion Government subsidies.

The raising of the producers' milk price is aimed at increasing milk production on the south end of Vancouver Island. For the present the distributors will have to stand the 40-cent per hundred pounds boost.

Primary producers will receive $3.65 per 100 pounds for milk sold on the Greater Victoria fluid market in the future.

Up to 40 per cent of the milk consumed on the south end of Vancouver Island is imported from the Fraser Valley. Producers there receive $3.10 per 100 pounds for their milk. Transportation costs of 75 cents per 100 pounds raise the price of this milk to the distributor in Victoria to $3.85.

The decision to increase the producers' price of milk follows a public hearing in Victoria last week during which representations were made by the producers in the Greater Victoria area. No representatives of the consumers appeared before the board.

At the present time Victoria consumers pay 15 cents per quart for standard milk.

Charge Against Chinese Changed To Manslaughter

A charge of manslaughter was read against Tong Yen, 953 Empress Avenue, in city police court today following the death Thursday morning of Mrs. Mary Emma LePage, aged 80 years, 1157 Hilda Street, from injuries suffered in an accident Sunday at Port and Vancouver Streets.

H. W. Davey, K.C., appeared for the accused and the case was remanded to next Tuesday for the preliminary hearing.

Request of Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, for withdrawal of the dangerous driving charge earlier laid against the Chinese was granted by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

An inquest into Miss LePage's death will be held Monday morning at 10, at Thomson's Funeral Home.

4-Power Unity Stronger Than Before, Says Bevin

MOSCOW (Reuter)—Foreign Secretary Bevin said on leaving Moscow today that he had a feeling that four-power unity was stronger than before because of the "very frankness exhibited by the ministers."

Summing up the Foreign Ministers' Conference at a press conference, Bevin said there had been more progress than he had hoped for so far as Germany was concerned.

"I would rather have taken a longer time to iron out our difficulties fully and produce a good over-all peace than hurry to create a false peace, slopping over with difficulties which would lead us back to turmoil," he said.

"We have now got before us the relative positions of the four governments," he added, pointing out that, in contrast with previous peace settlements, the defeated powers had been completely smashed with no government to deal with and no constitution in existence.

"We have really to build a new state."

"I cannot nor can His Majesty's government be a party to developing economic principles of a character which

Jap Tries To Escape

HONGKONG (Reuter)—Prisoners in Stanley Jail here were said today to have foiled an attempted jail break by Canadian-born Japanese Kanoe Inouye, a native of Kamioke, B.C., sentenced to death for high treason.

Police neither confirmed nor denied a circumstantial account of the attempt, which said the prisoner—under sentence since April 22—had overpowered a European warder. He seized the warder's revolver, it was said, but when he attempted to shoot his way out, other prisoners came to the guard's assistance.

coupled with reparations, will involve the British people, the United States and other countries in the necessity of making loans as we did at the end of World War I, which resulted—and I want to emphasize this—in a condition, where, in order to obtain reparations at that time, so many loans were made that we created the potential for a Second World War."

Hospital Sweeps Sought By Legion

The Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion, meeting Thursday night, unanimously endorsed a resolution advocating an amendment to the Criminal Code of Canada permitting attorney-generals to authorize hospital sweepstakes in the provinces.

It was stated that rising hospital operating costs and increased rates placed on patients made the sweepstake move necessary.

The meeting pointed out that no objection could be taken to this as the government already legalized gambling at race tracks and that hospital sweepstakes would be a great benefit to the public as a whole.

Also endorsed was a resolution that a provincial contributory health insurance program be instituted.

Tug Rides Out Gale

LONDON (CP)—The U.S. ocean-going tug Farallon reached Falmouth, Cornwall, today after straining through the hurricane which had churned up 100-foot seas which smashed her bridge and navigational equipment and injured the captain and several crew members.

Phone Strikers March

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Massed telephone strikers and sympathizers marched in San Francisco and Oakland today, and police radio instructions sent patrol cars converging on the main telephone building at Grant and Sutter streets in San Francisco. A wave of vandalism, mostly minor, was reported by the telephone company.

Glut Of Potatoes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Earl A. MacKay, manager of the Coast Vegetable Marketing Board, today reported approximately 3,000 tons of the 1946 potato crop still remain in the producers' hand, and because of California importations, board sales are down 60 to 70 per cent. "The consumers and the government have a moral obligation to buy these potatoes," he said.

More Mail Flights

OTTAWA (CP)—Postmaster General Bertrand announced today that five direct air mail flights daily in each direction, in place of the existing two, will start Sunday between Vancouver and Seattle. The five flights, together with the service over the Vancouver-Victoria-Seattle air mail route, will provide six air mail-trips daily from Vancouver to Seattle and seven daily from Seattle to Vancouver.

5 Dead, 6 Injured As Terrorists Blast Police Billet At Tel Aviv

JERUSALEM (AP)—Bombs wrecked a police billet in a suburb of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv today, leaving five dead and six injured.

A British police inspector and three British constables were killed, it was announced officially. Three persons are missing. British authorities said the explosives were planted in a mail truck driven by a man in a police uniform. The blast occurred about a minute and a half after the van was driven through the gate and parked next to the orderly room.

Transport Dept. Responsible For Necessary Work

Federal engineers will be sent to Victoria without delay to survey the extent to which improvements can be made to the Ogden Point docks, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., announced from Ottawa today. The investigation has been authorized by Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier.

The Victoria Liberal member also revealed that, regardless of any dispute concerning the federal department which technically is responsible for the maintenance and improvement of the docks, the Transport Department has agreed to assume responsibility for any work that the engineers may recommend.

The news was enthusiastically received by Walter S. Miles, vice-president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, who with Alderman F. N. Cabellu and D. D. McTavish, of the city harbor committee, interviewed Mr. Chevrier in Vancouver this spring.

"This will be the beginning of the realization of our plans for the betterment of the whole of Victoria," he said. "There is no doubt in my mind that the facilities, which the Dominion government proposes, will be used to the fullest extent in the very near future."

"In fact, the trend of shipping

on the Pacific, irrespective of competing factors in other ports, is going to bring more shipping here than can at present be realized."

"The only regret that I have is that at the inception of the whole harbor scheme, the whole breakwater was not built as originally intended and proposed as from Holland Point. The vision of the men in those days was farseeing and very definitely founded on experience and a long-range view of the future."

"I think we owe Mr. Mayhew and Mr. Chevrier an extreme debt of gratitude for realizing the importance of this focal point in international trade."

Improvements Suggested

Following are some of the improvements the Chamber of Commerce has asked for at Ogden Point:

Raising of the floor level of the shed by four feet.

Examination and reinforcement of all the walls.

Fender piles and bumpers on the faces of the piers.

Modern cranes and derricks for handling cargo in a fast and efficient manner.

Complete railway track facilities.

Such improvements to the docks as will make for the fast, efficient and comfortable handling of such passenger ships as may be coming to Victoria in the future. This includes construction of overhead landing stages.

Mr. Miles also said that while Mr. Mayhew's announcement mentioned only Ogden Point piers, he trusted the work to be done was but the beginning of the whole harbor development program. He pointed out that some of this program was underway in the construction of the $100,000 fisherman's wharf and in the $100,000 dredging of Victoria's Inner Harbor on which preliminary work has already been done.

Alderman Cabellu also welcomed the announcement. "When we saw Mr. Chevrier, he told us that the Transport Department was not responsible for repairs to the dock, as it fell within the jurisdiction of the Public Works Department," he said. "It is good to hear that they are now prepared to go ahead with the work."

He said the committee had been working for this end a long time, and it could well be the first step toward making Victoria one of the major Pacific coast ports.

According to Alderman Cabellu, one of the main items would be the raising of the dock from three to six feet to eliminate danger to large ships wishing to dock here. Another he considered of major importance was construction of the ferry slips to handle car ferries for both railway companies.

"The big thing we have been striving for," Ald. Cabellu said, "was to get the government to accept responsibility for improving the docks so that all transportation companies could use them. This good news indicates that this has finally happened."

H. C. Holmes, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said: "This seems to be a very broad-minded attitude on the part of Mr. Chevrier and a fine achievement for Mr. Mayhew."

Mr. Mayhew today sent an air mail letter to Mayor Percy George informing him of the new development, and he said "I hope this will give some additional encouragement to those who are working so hard to make the port of Victoria a success."

He enclosed a copy of Mr. Chevrier's letter authorizing the survey. Mr. Chevrier also told Mr. Mayhew that he is awaiting a report from the C.N.R. regarding the provision of the traveling crane suggested by Mr. Mayhew and he hopes to be able to advise him further regarding this at an early date.

Mayor George expressed appreciation for the efforts of Mr. Mayhew in this regard, and said the member had done excellent work for Victoria in this, as in other connections. "I am very pleased with the good news," the mayor said.

Sailor Victim Of Assault By 6 Boys

J. Yachson, 124 Victoria Avenue, stoker first class at H.M.C.S. Naden, was the victim of a surprise assault by a gang of boys last night and in the scuffle with them lost his wrist watch, city police report.

In reporting it to the police the stoker did not say where the incident took place, merely that he got into a mix-up with six lads about 15 or 16 years of age and in the scuffle with them tore the watch off his wrist. The sextette drove off in a 1928 black sedan, taking the watch with them.

Ask Right To Seek Radioactive Agents

LONDON (Reuter)—Power to search buildings, vehicles and ships for radioactive substances—by force if necessary—will be given to the government if a bill published today is approved by Parliament.

Lumber Policy Scored

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canada's lumber policy "of exploiting foreign markets to pay for the losses on domestic lumber" was scored at the annual meeting of the Western Lumber Manufacturers' Association here.

Matthew Sutton, the association's retiring president, said contract for shipment, not price, was the main object of the foreign buyers.

He said Chinese business had faded because of financial difficulties. South Africa had over-purchased, Australia was "out of the picture" due to internal problems and the United States, because of the adverse exchange situation, was not receiving much lumber from British Columbia.

Coach Lines Makes Changes For Daylight Saving Time On Island

Coincident with the advent of daylight saving time, Vancouver Island Coach Lines schedules will operate on fast time it was announced today by officials of the company.

Local services to and through the municipality of Saanich and Interurban lines to Sidney, Deep Cove, Salt Spring Island, Brentwood and Tod Inlet will operate the present schedules on daylight saving time basis.

Up-island schedules however, running from Victoria to northern island communities, while operating on daylight saving time will be changed to conform with steamship connections at Nanaimo to and from Vancouver.

The new up-island schedules will be as follows, all times being Pacific daylight saving time: Leave Victoria for Duncan, Nanaimo, Port Alberni and Courtenay-Campbell River—9 a.m., 11 a.m. (The Islander Limited); 1:30 p.m., 4 p.m., 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. on Sundays only. Arrive from the north at Victoria—11:20 a.m.,

5:10 p.m. (The Islander Limited), 6 p.m., 9:15 and 1 a.m.

Similar changes will be made covering service from Nanaimo Courtenay and Campbell River, Nanaimo to Port Alberni and Duncan to Lake Cowichan and Youbou.

SOOKE-JORDAN RIVER

The Sooke-Jordan River schedule will be altered one hour on the afternoon trip to Sooke and Jordan River so as to assure a connection with the arrival of the boat from Vancouver. The new daylight saving schedule will be leaving Victoria at 5:15 p.m. daily except Sunday, 9:30 p.m. Sundays only, leaving Jordan River at 8 a.m. daily except Sunday, 5:30 p.m. Sundays only and leaving Sooke 9 a.m. daily except Sunday, 6:30 p.m. Sundays only.

It was pointed out that these changes do not constitute the summer service on the main lines but will apply, effective next Sunday, until the summer change is made during the month of June.

No General Retail Price Decline Seen In U.S. Yet, Analysts Say

NEW YORK (AP)—The price structure of the United States remained out of balance today after a month of wide discussion sparked by President Truman.

Although reductions were spotted here and there, the American consumer found many prices unchanged and some increased.

Some analysts said the prices of too many "key commodities" were as yet untouched for recent spectacular reductions to be followed by a general retail decline soon.

Many retailers, in spite of post-Easter sales, slashes in hard-to-move goods, and publicized across-the-board cuts by communities, said they could do little about general price reductions until manufacturers did.

An Associated Press survey showed declines in spot wholesale prices of the following commodities April 24 as compared with a week ago: Scrap steel, turpentine, eggs, cocoa, coffee, flour, lard, butter, hogs, corn and oats.

Increases were reported in hides, cattle, lamb, rye and cotton.

Unchanged in price were: Cement, rubber, bituminous coal, petroleum, linseed oil, steel billets, lumber, burlap, sugar, wheat, wool, rayon, cotton cloth, silk, antimony, tin, zinc, lead and copper.

Analysts noted that, with the exception of scrap steel and turpentine, the great "basic industries" raw materials were unchanged, not only for the week but also since April 1.

Non-ferrous metals remained at the year's high prices.

The Associated Press commodity index of 35 commodities, based on 1926 prices as 100, stood at 172.90 April 24, compared with 173.15 April 18, and 179.50 April 11. The high for the year was 182.75 March 14, and the low 164.71 Jan. 24.

FOLLOW NEWBURYPORT

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP)—Retailers in a widening circle of cities have hopped aboard the Newburyport "price-cut bandwagon."

As a scattering of merchants marked down price tags in an average of 10 per cent—many said they were acting in response to President Truman's appeal for lower prices—the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston issued a report Thursday showing unit volume of department store sales in New England started to slump last week, prior to the Newburyport price-cut move.

Famed U.S. Writer Willa Cather Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Willa Cather, 70, one of North America's foremost novelists, died Thursday.

Cause of death was reported as cerebral hemorrhage.

She had resided here many years.

Miss Cather, born near Winchester, Va., but reared on a Nebraska ranch, had been a school teacher, newspaper writer, magazine editor and poet, as well as an outstanding novelist.

She wrote her first novel, "Alexander's Bridge," in 1912. In 1922 she received the Pulitzer Prize for what was named the outstanding novel of the year, "One of Ours."

She chose a Quebec city setting for one of her novels, "Shadows on the Rock," published in 1931.

Miss Cather worked her way through the University of Nebraska doing newspaper correspondence and later worked on the Pittsburgh Daily Worker as telegraph editor and dramatic critic. In 1907 she joined the staff of McClure's Magazine and became managing editor of it in 1906—a post she held for six years. Afterwards she was a free lance writer.

She never married.

Storm Death Toll In Britain Now 62

LONDON (AP)—Salvage men waited for calmer seas today before boarding the veteran battleship Warspite, wrecked on a rock off the Cornish coast Wednesday during a storm.

There was some doubt whether the retired man of war ever could be refloated or even completely salvaged while resting on the ledge. The 31,000-ton ship, survivor of two wars, ran aground while being towed to a salvage yard for wrecking.

The four-day storm subsided considerably during the night after killing at least 62 seamen in other shipwrecks. The Warspite's salvage crew of eight was saved.

Britain began raising a fund today for the families of lifeboat men who perished Wednesday night in a vain attempt to rescue 40 men from the British tanker Samtampa, which ran aground Wednesday off Porthcawl, Wales. Early contributions totaled $6,000.

Report Russians Seek Uranium In Saxony

MUNICH (AP)—A German businessman who spent several weeks in the Russian zone asserted today Soviet engineers were turning a mountainous area of Saxony into a great mining region in a "frantic" search for uranium—key to the atom bomb.

Search Started For Millions

MANILA (AP)—The government started search today for millions in Philippine currency and silver coin taken to Corregidor for safekeeping at the outbreak of the war.

The silver was dumped into Manila Bay when the Japanese overran the islands in 1942. Japanese divers recovered some, and so did the U.S. navy and divers from a Seattle, Wash., salvage firm. But from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 still is missing.

In addition, $15,000,000 in currency from national treasury vaults was taken to the rocky fortress in Manila Bay. Most of this was burned, but some was sent to southern islands to pay troops. The government wants to know what happened to it.

Australians Pay Tribute To War Dead

CANBERRA (CP)—Thousands of Australian soldiers, sailors and airmen, and women who gave wartime service, marched today in remembrance of Australia's 80,000 dead in the two world wars.

The occasion was the 32nd anniversary of the landing of the Australian and New Zealand Army Corps at Gallipoli in 1915, which launched the abortive eight-month battle to open a short Allied supply route to Russia through the Dardanelles.

The King and Queen, departing from South Africa, sent an Anzac Day message to Australia and Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, who is due to visit Australia in June, made a special broadcast about Gallipoli and El Alamein.

Marshall Flying Home From Moscow Regretting Failure

MOSCOW (AP)—State Secretary Marshall winged through European skies toward home today to report to the people of the United States on the Big Four negotiations which broke up Thursday night in almost complete disagreement on the major issues involved in concluding peace treaties for Austria and Germany.

"I am sorry we did not make more progress," Marshall said just before boarding the plane scheduled to reach Washington tomorrow night, "but I imagine that as we look back in the days ahead we will see that much more was done than we realized at the time."

Foreign Minister Bidault was slated to leave Moscow for Paris aboard a special train today and Foreign Secretary Bevin was set to go on a special train leaving at midnight.

More than 300 other diplomats, secretaries and foreign correspondents arranged to pull out before the weekend is over. Already, however, they were talking about the next session of the Council of Foreign Ministers, in New York in September, perhaps, and in London in November certainly.

BIG BANQUET

The final break-up of the conference came with friendly spirits prevailing despite the sometimes harsh and blunt disagreements over the basic issues at stake, and this good will was especially noticeable at Thursday night's lavish farewell banquet given by Prime Minister Stalin in the Kremlin.

Bevin humorously speculated what the situation in the world would be if President Truman were boss in the Kremlin and Stalin president of the United States. He concluded with a serious plea for mutual understanding.

Stalin greeted all guests—the 10 top men from each visiting delegation—affably upon their arrival and again upon their departure at about 1 a.m.

Ten-year-old Janet Berryman, centre, has been chosen Parkville's May Queen and will preside at the celebration in Community Park, May 22, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Berryman she came to Parkville from Port Alberni last year and is in grade five. Diane Eriksen, left, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Viggo Eriksen will be one of her attendants. During the war she lived in Esquimalt with her family while her father was serving with the navy. Other attendant will be Wanda Woznica, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Woznica of Nanose.

Duncan Chamber Enlarges Scope Of Executive

DUNCAN—Scope of the executive of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce will be enlarged through amendments to the constitution approved at a general meeting.

Number of sessions will be reduced from monthly to quarterly, while the executive will meet monthly or more frequently if necessary, and submit reports to the quarterly meetings.

Belief that prospects of success in the question of ferry service between Vesuvius Bay on Salt Spring Island and Crofton were much better now, was expressed by K. F. Duncan, the Chamber will take up the matter again which had been discussed a year ago by representatives of Duncan, Chemalmus, Ladysmith, Nanaimo and Salt Spring Island with the Provincial Department of Works.

The federal department of public works gave little encouragement for the construction of a breakwater at Cowichan Bay. Engineers estimated the cost at $92,000, and said it would be of use only to tourists and fishermen. This was denied by Capt. D. Peck of Cowichan Bay, who said he had given service to 8,500 passengers who were neither tourists nor fishermen in the past year, and there were others who were giving similar service. A committee of Capt. Peck and J. K. Stewart was appointed to renew the Chamber of Commerce breakwater request.

7-Store Building Planned For Duncan

DUNCAN—Plans for a modern store building to include seven stores have been prepared for J. H. Whitmore & Co. Ltd., covering the erection of a modern store building by the company on Jubilee Street, between Government and Kenneth Streets.

Extension of the business section in this direction is following a trend which has developed in the last two years.

Judgment Reserved On Crown's Appeal In Mrs. Dick's Case

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario Court of Appeal Thursday reserved judgment on Crown's appeal against acquittal of Mrs. Evelyn Dick on a charge of murdering her husband, John. The acquittal came at the end of Mrs. Dick's second trial on the murder charge, a trial ordered by the Appellate Court which set aside her conviction at the first trial.

C. R. Magone of the Attorney-General's Department asked that the Appeal Court set aside the acquittal and order a third trial for the 27-year-old Hamilton widow. Earlier, W. B. Common, for the Crown, had argued that the Crown should have been permitted to enter as evidence statements allegedly made by Mrs. Dick concerning the torso-slaying of her husband.

Ship Tolls Proposed By U.S. To Aid Building Of St. Lawrence Seaway

OTTAWA (CP)—A United States proposal that construction of deep seaway projects on the St. Lawrence River be made self-liquidating through imposition of tolls on shipping using the route has been agreed to in principle by the Canadian government, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Thursday.

Construction of the projects, that would provide a 2,000-mile channel through the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence to the sea, was first agreed to by the United States and Canada in 1941, but so far neither country has obtained ratification of the agreement.

Mr. St. Laurent said the agreement, placed before the U.S. Congress every year since 1941 for approval, had been resubmitted recently.

Canada's position has been to delay ratification pending acceptance of the agreement by Congress.

Canada, said Mr. St. Laurent, would not object "to the principle of tolls provided they could be arranged in such a way that there would be genuine benefit to transportation in a reduction of charges by the construction of the seaway."

Canadian transport officials said it would not be the first time Canada and the United States charged tolls on shipping. They said there had been shipping tolls on all canals up to about 1903, when they were abolished.

BILL AT WASHINGTON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Additional legislation to authorize the St. Lawrence seaway and power project is "almost certain" to be introduced in the U.S. Senate shortly, probably in a couple of weeks, a Congressional official said today.

The new proposal, as contrasted with bills now before the Senate and House of Representatives, will specifically authorize imposition of tolls to make the long-debated international project self-liquidating, Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Rep., Mich., is expected to be a sponsor.

Otherwise, the informant said, the expected legislation will differ little from that which has been before the Congress in this and previous years.

The present measure merely authorizes—in so far as tolls are

17th Traffic Death

VANCOUVER (CP)—A shopping trip proved fatal Thursday for five-year-old Murray Estabrook when he was struck by a loaded 5-ton gravel truck shortly after noon and killed instantly.

The boy, son of Mrs. Leona Estabrook, lived with his grandmother, Mrs. S. A. Dunn.

He was returning home from shopping with Mrs. Dunn, and another woman when he ran from between them into the path of the truck.

It was Vancouver's 17th traffic death this year.

Hollywood Bowl Refuses Time For Speech By Wallace

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Progressive Citizens of America have been denied the use of the Hollywood Bowl in May for a speech by former Vice-President Henry Wallace, C. E. Toberman, president of the bowl, said.

The action was taken April 15. Toberman and general manager Karl Wecker declared, "to avoid the presentation of highly controversial issues" in the 20,000-capacity amphitheatre.

"The directors decided the bowl should not be used as a springboard for ideologies foreign to the majority thought at this time," Toberman asserted. "The bowl always has stressed cultural aspects an avoided controversy."

However, officials admitted it was the first turn-down "in recent years—and one of the few in the 26-year history of the bowl."

The bowl in the past has been the scene of numerous political addresses, including talks by the late President Roosevelt during his 1932 campaign; Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader; Thomas E. Dewey, Wendell Willkie, Charles Lindbergh, and Senator Claude Pepper as recently as last September.

The P.C.A. is the successor to the former Hollywood Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions.

Robert W. Kenny, former state attorney-general and southern California chairman of P.C.A., said "the Wallace meeting will go on, bowl or no bowl, even if we have to hold it in a telephone booth."

NOT WITHOUT HOPE

THE FOREIGN MINISTERS OF THE
"Big Four" are homeward-bound today,
the disappointments and dissensions of their six-weeks' Moscow conference sweetened somewhat by the sentiments expressed at the farewell banquet given last night by Premier Stalin. For the representatives of Britain, France, the United States and Russia who argued at the round table day by day, the conference was frustrating and generally unproductive, and this reaction was shared by the vast multitudes all over the world who followed reports of the talks.

The conferees themselves, however,
fresh from exchanges which were always frank and at times acrimonious, appear to be returning to their capitals with a sense of optimism which has yet to penetrate to the waiting public. United States Secretary of State Marshall admitted disappointment
over the slow progress of the conference,
but added, "I imagine that as we look back in the days ahead we will see that much more was done than we realized at the time."

Said Britain's Foreign Secretary Bevin, expressing a belief that four-power unity is stronger than before because of the very frankness exhibited by the ministers—"I would rather have taken a longer time to iron out our difficulties fully and produce a good over-all peace, than hurry to create a false peace."

The prevailing spirit seemed to be one of thinking forward hopefully to the next meetings—expected next fall in New York or London—rather than of dwelling upon the stalemates of the talks just concluded.
And this view might well be adopted by all those peoples whose future will be determined by the deliberations—if for no other reason than that it is the only one which holds any promise of peace and progress.

There is much to be said for a policy
of "slow but sure" in these postwar settlements. If we become impatient at the thought that two years have elapsed since the close of hostilities, let it not be forgotten that the problems for which a solution must be found were the outcome of six years of war and twice that many of largely unconscious preparation.

This is a matter where time is of less importance than final agreement. Nothing has been lost at the talks which cannot be regained and surpassed at succeeding meetings, and there has been the direct advance embodied in a better realization by all parties of the strengths, weaknesses and ultimate intentions of the "Big Four" nations. It will be disappointing for Germany to have to wait still longer for a basic settlement of her postwar status—a prolonga-tion of her period of travail—but we can envision worse fates had our situations been reversed.

CITY HALL BY-LAW

ON THURSDAY OF NEXT WEEK THE ratepayers of Victoria will decide whether or not the present City Hall and site will be sold for $176,000 to commercial interests as the first step in a program to provide a new and more appropriate building for civic headquarters. The price, in the opinion of expert evaluators, is favorable to the city. The desirability of securing an up-to-date home for the administration is generally appreciated. Tentative estimates for the proposed new hall have been set at $250,000, a figure requiring the additional payment of $74,000 from the city's coffers for the structure, on the assumption that a site will not have to be purchased.

Victoria can grub along without a new City Hall just as it can exist without other improvements. But the ratepayers will have to ask themselves whether the interests of true economy would be served if they turned down the by-law. To put the present building into reasonable condition for efficient conduct of city business would cost in the neighborhood of $60,000. Nor would that be the end. Maintenance expenditure would continue at the accelerated rate unavoidable in a structure as old as that now in use. On the other hand, it would seem reasonable to expect a material reduction in the amount of repairs that would be required on a new building.

Admittedly building costs are high at present and may continue so in the immediate future. As a corollary, real estate values are enhanced. Consequently, if Victoria were to await a drop in construction charges, the city should also anticipate a reduction in the value of the present holding. In a general sense, one would seem to offset the other.

The question to be placed before the property owners is relatively simple. Do they intend to put up with obsolescence
and the reduced efficiency arising from it?
Or are they determined to keep pace with the march of progress and to build a City Hall that would be in keeping with the times? An overwhelming majority of council members are calling for the progressive approach to the issue. They can, however, move only as fast as the ratepayers permit them.

Citizens will have noted, incidentally,

that the administration will be given the right to continue occupancy of the existing structure, on reasonable terms, until July, 1949. By that time the new hall, suited to present and future needs, should be an actuality.

DR. S. J. WILLIS

JUST TWO MONTHS AGO, FORMER
students and leaders in educational circles in British Columbia paid tribute to the works, accomplishments and personality
of Dr. S. J. Willis. Apparently recovered from a recent grave illness, their guest of honor retained that cheerfulness, courtliness and friendly interest in his fellows which had been his distinguishing characteristics through a long and useful life.
Yesterday the sands ran out for Dr. Willis.
His passing, not altogether unexpected, nevertheless brings an acute sense of loss to literally thousands who came under his enlightening influence.

In many fields the seeds planted by the Prince Edward Island-born educationist took root and flourished. As Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia his influence on Masonry in Western Canada
was a force for brotherhood and sympathetic understanding. As a teacher, in those early days of his residence in this province,
he brought richness to the lives of many young men and women who, inspired by his example, went on to academic heights and the fulfillment of those ideals of service he sought to inculcate. In the progressive improvement of the Department of Education,
in the direction of the school system, he gave fully of his abilities to attain a success
attested by the heartfelt tribute paid to his memory by the present minister.

Laurels, unsought but well-earned, fell to Dr. Willis among them honorary degrees from McGill and the University of British Columbia. They left him unchanged from the gracious and kindly man of simple enjoyments whom so many called friend. At 70, he has left a world that held his interest to the end, and to which he made such stimulating contributions through the gift
of his talents in the cause of scholarship and the broader aspects of education. Public appreciation of his service will soften the blow of his passing to the widow and son.

PROGRESS AND PERSONALITY

WITH BISHOP SEXTON'S CRITICISM
of city boulevard policy—"It is open to serious doubt whether our streets and boulevards are enhanced by the removal of graceful and attractive trees"—some may take issue. It is not the desire of the parks department to take trees down simply for the purpose of giving variety to the scene. The forest type frequently has to be removed to eliminate serious drainage and other problems. The question has been debated frequently with opposing sides presenting excellent argument.

The point is incidental, however, to the broader question of town planning to which the Bishop drew attention. He will enjoy the support of all Victorians conscious of the unique and distinctive attractions of this capital for his warning that "the citizens of Victoria, in particular, need to be most watchful lest the hand of the spoiler disfigure their fair city." The people of this district have no desire to see the community retain its "quaintness" through the preservation of that which is obsolete and backward. At the same time, they do not wish their city to become just another town. For the benefit of tourist and resident alike it is desirable that the pleasant nature of surroundings here be maintained, that the widely-acclaimed charm of Victoria be preserved. Town-planners will not be unmindful of that fact any more than citizens who appreciate the particular character established here over a long period of years.

It should not be too difficult to coordinate Victoria's personality with the developments that must take place in the interests of progress.

MANNA FROM HEAVEN

THE "MAN WITH THE HOE" HAS BEcome the "man with the joystick" in a British experiment to sow wheat from a low-flying aircraft. It is hard to envision a more radical adaptation of the simple agricultural act described in the Biblical phrase,
"a sower went forth to sow," but it must have been expected in this age of atomic energy, jet planes and electronics.

British farmers already have turned wartime "swords" into "ploughshares" in an effort to overcome the serious crop delays caused by recent bad weather and floods. Air-raid pumps and jet engines were used to take water off inundated farm lands.
Anti-aircraft searchlights were used horizontally to light up night ploughing operations, and now in a further race against time, a plane is being used for planting in land which is still too sodden to permit surface sowing.

The aircraft will be flown at a speed of about 75 miles per hour at a height of 50 feet. Five tons of seed wheat will be dropped through the bomb bays to scatter over a 50-acre area in the wake of the speeding plane. Mechanical tractors will harrow the ground after the aerial sowing, and the outcome of the plan is being keenly watched by British agriculturalists.

It may be that under the spur of adversity a process of rapid sowing will be developed which could be applied with benefit to Canada's huge wheat lands. In any event, the latest development proves that Britons, despite the common accusation of "muddling through," are fully alive to technical advances and the advantages that may come from enterprising experimentation.

Life In The Raw

THERE IS A WEALTH of gripping novels
and true stories these days about hunting, fishing and life in the wilds. Tales of adventure, deeds of heroism, stark tragedy
in the woods—these have formed the subject matter of literary effort from the pulp magazines to the best sellers. But you can keep your book-of-the-month and your magazine thrillers. For real, down-to-earth drama, absorbing mystery and wilderness adventure, gentlemen, give me the annual report of the Provincial Game Commission.

In this slim volume may be found all the elements of operatic tragedy, all the building blocks of drama, all the raw meat of a literary feast. I grant you there is practically no dialogue and that much of the narrative consists of tables of figures, but the facts are there and need only the application of the reader's imagination.

ONE OF THE MOST intriguing features of these woodland jylls is that you rarely hear what made things happen and how they finally turned out. You are only given one quick glimpse into the lives of the characters. Then the mists roll in again and you can only surmise what led up to the highlight of achievement you have witnessed—and what followed.

In a copy of the report which has just come in, for instance, we have a peek into the private lives of two trappers in the northern part of the province. Here is the material we have to work on:

"Austin Middlemiss and Arthur Evans, trapping partners of Hazelton, were found dead from starvation and exposure on the trail of the Stikine and Sustut Rivers. No evidence of foul play was found, and there was no prosecution in this case."

There we have it in its official terseness.
But think of the rich drama behind those brief words. The two men, struggling along as death dogged their footsteps, the silent, dark woods, the empty sky. What twist of destiny had sent the pair to this spot to die on a forest trail together? Were they mystery men who perished unknown,
or was there the tragedy of wives and children waiting with ebbing hopes as the return date passed and no word came? Only our imaginations can supply the answer.

BUT IT IS not all stark tragedy in these thrilling pages. There was a hint of romance in another hunting accident.

"Mary Ellen MacKinnon of Prince Rupert was shot in the right thigh by Private Spinella, United States Army. The girl recovered, and the American authorities took disciplinary action."

There you have all the elements of a scenario. Perhaps they were strolling through the woods, unknown to each other,
and this unfortunate occurrence brought them together for the first time. Let spring and your imagination take over.

Here is a little note on a northland saga
that whets the curiosity but leaves it unsatisfied:

"Two patrols made by Constable H. Jamleson, in charge of Telegraph Creek detachment of the British Columbia Police, may also be mentioned. Patrol was made by dogteam and snowshoes from Telegraph Creek to Dease Lake, Porter's Landing, Lakelse, etc. A distance of 342 miles was covered in a period of 13 days. Good information was obtained re predators."

That was excellent going—an average of better than 26 miles a day. You can just see the doughty constable musing through the silent wastes, crouching over his campfire, feeding his snarling huskies, and all the time, relentlessly gathering more and more information on predators. Some day
I'm going to look up what a predator is.
I'll bet it's something exciting.

THERE'S INTERESTING speculation, too,
in the list of those who paid big-game
fees.—G. Zimmerman of Bristol, Tennessee, shot one of the 44 grizzly bears mentioned in the report. Obviously Mr. Zimmerman did not come all the way from Tennessee to bump into a grizzly by accident, so we can assume he sought it out deliberately. But think of the possibilities! Was this his first bear, shot with tingling nerves and shaking fingers; or was it only one in a long string of victories, knocked off with the steady aim and nonchalance of the veteran? Did he shoot the grizzly with a telescopic sight
from the safety of a rocky pinnacle, or did
he slay it in grim combat on a narrow path,
the rank breath of the mankiller hot in his face? I leave it with you.

THE GAME-FISH Branch brings a breath of adventure and poetry to its section of the report. Look at these names: Skookum-chuck River, Lillian Lake, Clucutz Creek, Paddy Ryan Lakes, Peavine Creek and Tula-mone River. These waters and scores of others received their annual quotas of trout eggs and fry for the future pleasure of fishermen. But who was the fair Lillian who lent her name to a woodland pool, and has anybody here seen Paddy Ryan?

The list of accidents, related in prim official language, opens up a whole field of speculation. We read of Gordon McKay of Invermere, "attacked by grizzly bear—bitten in leg—not serious." Of E. J. Ferraro of Fife, "wounded in left forearm" by "accidental discharge of a shotgun when falling off a slippery log—serious." Or of Harry T. Wells of Saanich who received "pellets in head and chest—not serious," while "walking in line of shot directed at a pheasant."

THESE THINGS are the stuff of life, the primitive essentials of human living,
and we who lead an existence in the sheltered walls of cities must get them vicariously in the pages of such thrillers as this government publication.—B.A.T.

Hazards On The American Fairway

Shortages Britain's Only Surplus

By JOHN DAUPHINEE, Canadian Press Staff Writer from London

SHORTAGES are the United Kingdom's only surplus.
The one word describes this country
and its way of life almost two years after the end of the war
in Europe: Shortage of coal and electricity... shortage of manpower... shortage of raw materials... shortage of modern factories... shortage of food
... shortage of homes... shortage of transport... shortage of dollars.

When the Anglo-American offensive was launched in North Africa in late 1942, Winston Churchill said it was "not the beginning of the end but the end of the beginning." That is the United Kingdom's position today
in its fight back to peacetime normal.

EASIER STAGES

Reconversion of industry from military to civilian output is virtually complete. More than 7,500,000 men and women have been "demobilized from the services and straight war work, and put to peacetime work, with little unemployment. But these are the easier stages.

"We have now come face to face with the real difficulties of the situation," says Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, "difficulties which are not transitory in their nature,
but which will require all our most determined efforts to overcome."

They are difficulties that threaten Britain's prosperity for all the future, and her prestige
in world affairs.

GREAT OBSTACLES

"We may never restore the foundations of our national life," warned Prime Minister Clement

Attlee, sapped by two wars
and a great depression, is fighting for her national existence in an unprecedented economic crisis. This is the first of a series of stories giving Canadians a detailed picture of the crisis, its causes, effects and the battle being fought to overcome it.—Editor.

Attlee's economic White Paper
last month. Not until this year did the risk come home to the people generally. Millions were left idle, vital exports were slowed and home shortages intensified by coal and power cut-offs that stopped half of England's productivity.

That can happen again in 1948
if it does, Attlee's government will be in danger and postwar austerity will become real hardship, no matter what administration is in office.

COAL FUNDAMENTAL

Coal is the fundamental problem. Without it, higher production is impossible and the manpower shortage will be replaced
by widespread unemployment.
Without higher production and full employment, there is no chance of reaching the long-term "prosperity" target for exports—175 per cent of 1938
volume.

EXPORTS MEAN IMPORTS

Without expanded exports,
there must in the long run be fewer imports. And fewer imports mean not only less food and consumer goods for everyone in the United Kingdom, but also smaller British purchases in Canada. The Dominion, as well as the United Kingdom, will suffer. If there is enough coal—

even the 200,000,000-ton goal set by the Labor government for 1947 is only enough for the most vital purposes—other problems are crowding to replace it as the fundamental difficulty.

Electricity shortages, now curtailing production, cannot be met with new generating plants that will take several years to build.

POOR DISTRIBUTION

Labor is not only scarce but poorly distributed. The coal mines, agriculture and the cotton mills, to name three undertakings essential to the nation's well-being, are sadly undermanned
while less important industries
can offer higher pay and easier
work—and get the help they need.

If power and labor problems
are met, there are critical shortages of raw materials, machinery and factory construction and modernization that must be over-
come.

The British railways, run down
by seven years without full maintenance of right-of-way and rolling stock, may soon have to impose speed limits in the interest of safety. The merchant marine is under strength and there are no top-flight British planes.

NEED DUNKERQUE DRIVE

What Britain needs, Sir Stafford says, is "a steady drive like that which followed the Dun-kerque period of the war, when the people, never sparing themselves, remorselessly drove forward production on every front, but particularly upon those which were then critical."

For the United Kingdom, that means more individual effort, and probably more sacrifice.

Mr. Truman's Transformation

By JAMES THRASHER, From New York

IT IS HARD to believe that the Harry S. Truman of the Jefferson Day speech is the same Harry S. Truman who, as a loyal party man, allowed himself to be silenced and ignored in last fall's political campaigns. But the results of the elections probably explain the change that has come over the President.

Party strategists attempted to re-elect a Democratic Congress
by sidetracking Mr. Truman, whose popularity had slumped
at the time, and broadcasting recordings of the late President Roosevelt's voice. The strategy was not successful. And with its failure, Mr. Truman ceased trying to be the voice of Mr. Roosevelt.

ON HIS OWN FEET

The change has never been more apparent than in the Jefferson Day dinner address in Washington. It was the speech of a man who is standing on his own feet and filling the office of President in his own right. Mr.
Truman laid his policies and programs on the line without diffidence or apology.

He can refrain from lambasting the Republican Congress directly. For he must work with the Republicans in advancing along the course which he has charted. In fact, one of his strongest criticisms might have been applied more readily to his own party's left wing than to the Republicans.

BREAK WITH NEW DEAL

The speech marked a definite break with the ultra-New Dealers
whose efforts had failed last November. This scarcely could have been otherwise. For Mr.
Truman clearly undertook an impossible task by pledging himself to the program of Franklin
D. Roosevelt when he took office.

That was a broad and general program of domestic social legislation and, as some interpreted it, continuation of the close wartime co-operation with Russia. It was not a detailed blueprint.

What made Mr. Truman's task impossible was the succession of crises, major and minor, which followed the war's end. There were such things as the change in Russia's attitude, the failure of price controls, and the ensuing demand for their removal,
the coal and railroad strikes, the problem of writing peace treaties, and so on.

NOT HELPFUL

These crises would have confronted Mr. Roosevelt. There were plenty of people willing to tell Mr. Truman what his predecessor would have done under the same circumstances. But these suggestions were not helpful and, perhaps, not entirely true. We have it from as old and good a friend as Miss Frances Perkins that the late President was less a theoretician than an improviser, who built the New Deal almost from day to day and changed his tactics to meet changing conditions.

At any rate, Harry S. Truman had to meet the problems of the presidency with Harry Truman's brains, not Franklin D. Roosevelt's. How reluctantly some of his party colleagues accepted that fact was shown in the use of the Roosevelt recordings in the last election. The vote showed how impossible it is to cling to the past.

So, with his address of April 5,
Mr. Truman took the confident commanding position of party leadership which his office gives him. He also undoubtedly fired the first gun of his 1948 re-election bid. It made quite an imposing boom, too.

LIFE AND HEALTH

The Times of London

A nation's well-being depends largely upon a high standard of physical health. While much attention is rightly paid in Britain
now to such factors as calories
or housing, without the individual's determination to be fit
these material benefits can be only a contributory cause of fitness. Vast crowds flocking to football matches and boxing contests may be indicative of a national interest in sport, but they do not necessarily signify any true regard for the real purpose of recreation—the exercise of a man's own body, and the consequent revitalization of a man's own mind.

GARDENER

Ottawa Citizen

Darwin estimated that one acre
of ground may contain as many as 50,000 earthworms; and that they may carry more than 18 tons of soil to the surface in a single year.

One could moralize endlessly
on the industry of the earthworm,
its relations to the price of potatoes and wheat, and whether robins should really bother it,
quite as much as they do.

But now that spring has come
it's much nicer to lie back and relax and think of nothing, except perhaps how much work that friendly little earthworm is doing for lazy humans.

Ulster Commentary

In Ulster, as in many other countries, so much timber was felled for war purposes between 1939 and 1945 that afforestation has become a matter of the highest national importance.

There are 46 separate aforestation areas. Trees are being planted at the rate of 1,000 per annum, and the rate will shortly be accelerated.

To encourage private owners to replant woodlands which have been completely cleared the ministry pays a grant of £7 10s
per acre under certain conditions. For years past young trees of various species have been supplied in lots of not less than 1,000 at cost price. Under the scheme no fewer than 3,400, 000 young trees have been distributed.

SPEECH TRAINING

Washington Post

Long before the time of Demosthenes, the faculty of projecting one's thoughts into effective speech was recognized as an art.
By the same token, with a few notable exceptions, American education has failed miserably
to cultivate this art among its graduates. One need not sit through the hours of unmitigated boredom that often pass for public speeches, even in the halls of Congress, to perceive the tremendous waste of energies incurred by poor speaking techniques. Nor need one be an expert to realize that many of our boys and girls are emerging from schools as linguistic cripples. The inability to express oneself forcefully is most certainly an inhibiting factor in the success of any career.

Hospitality Traded

U.K. Information Office

Over 100,000 people in Britain
and Europe will spend holidays
in each others' homes this year.
They are members of the World Friendship Association—a United Kingdom organization founded appropriately enough on May 8, 1945, V-E Day. The countries concerned are Britain, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark,
France, Holland, Luxembourg, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland. Some 25,000 Dutch families have offered hospitality to United Kingdom guests this year. Denmark has invited 5,000 and other countries are equally hospitable.

The scheme works simply.
Members choose the centre in which they wish to spend their holiday and the association arranges accommodation in homes
of members there whose tastes and occupations are similar. In return continental members visit their counterparts in Britain.

The cost is under $40 per person, which covers fares from port to destination, meals on the journey, insurance and four-day excursions. All other expenses are borne by the hosts. Thus it is possible for peoples of Europe
to mix freely and to understand
one another's backgrounds on a scale never before possible for people of limited means. These ambassadors of international understanding will play an important part in building world peace.

Snow Covered Mining Town

Stewart, small mining community, 120 miles north of Prince Rupert, which was founded in 1906 by the Stewart brothers of Victoria, received more than its share of snow this winter, according to William R. Tooth, councillor and ex-mayor of the village, who is visiting the city.

Ten feet of snow lay on the ground throughout the winter months, while some buildings were nearly buried in snow, he said. Motor cars drove through canal like roads with banks over 10 feet in height.

Although some mines managed to operate throughout the winter months, the Silver Tip Mine was obliged to close down in November due to the heavy fall of snow, he said. The mine will be re-opened sometime next month.

"We never saw anything like it," said Mr. Tooth. "In the past we got snow but the rain usually melted it away. This year the snow stayed with us."

Approximately 800 people employed at four major mines, live in the district which has nearly doubled its population since the war, he said. The community now had a school, theatre and community hall.

"We depend entirely on mining," he stated. "When that goes down we will go down too. But we don't think that will happen for a long time yet."

The opinion that the recent inspection tour of the V.L.A. Braefoot Estate homes by Minister of Veterans Affairs Ian MacKenzie, was inadequate and that the only solution to the problem in that area would be a Royal Commission investigation, was contained in a resolution passed unanimously at a meeting of the Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion Thursday night.

It was thought that the minister should have made a more definite decision on the matter on the spot. The resolution pointed out the council "viewed with suspicion" the manner in which the inspection was conducted.

Advice received that the D.V.A. had taken over the naval and army cemetery at Esquimalt on April 1 and that only members of the forces or those actually on the strength of the D.V.A. at the time of death would be buried there, met strong opposition from the meeting, presided over by Carl Fallas, chairman.

Speakers stressed this announcement defeated the purpose of the Legion, which had long been advocating a cemetery for ex-service personnel. It was decided to take the matter to higher authorities.

A committee of three, with power to act was struck to look into all phases of the recent layoffs and increased hours of work for a two-platoon system operating at the Naval Dockyard fire department. It was stated that hours worked were two shifts of 10 and 14 hours. The committee will be composed of the president, Robert Knight, immediate past chairman and S. J. Mayzes, president of the Britannia Branch.

CLEM GILL HONORED
Joseph J. Wittcomb reviewed the fine work done by Clem A. Gill, secretary of the Pro Patria Branch, during his 15 years of service as secretary of the council. The council presented him with a Georgian—solid walnut coffee table inscribed with a silver plate as a token of esteem on his retirement from office.

The meeting was informed there are over 200 branches, comprising 50,000 members, of the Canadian Legion in British Columbia.

Real Estate Board Officers Elected
As a result of ballot, followed by meetings of the executive of the board, the following will compose the officers of the Real Estate Board of Victoria during the ensuing 12 months: President (re-elected), Brooke Stephens; first vice-president, J. Arthur Wild; second vice-president, Jack Fraser; executive committee, the officers with the addition of E. Frank Burton, F. Cabeldu, J. Denis Hagar, H. C. Holmes and R. H. Shanks. Hubert Lethaby was re-elected secretary-treasurer, a position he has held continuously since 1924.

The officers will be installed at the annual general meeting of the board to be held at the Empress Hotel May 7. At the same time financial and other reports will be submitted to the membership covering the past year.

Heavy Tobacco Tax May Improve Health
LONDON (Reuter)—The recent budget which imposed additional heavy taxes on tobacco may mean improved health for Britons.

Stating that medical men have yet to prove tobacco consumption is good for health, the British Medical Journal said today one indictment of smoking was in the life tables of 2,094 non-smokers, 2,814 moderate and 1,905 heavy smokers. Of these, 45.9 per cent of the non-smokers lived to 70 years, 41.4 of the moderates, and only 30.4 of the heavy smokers.

Of Junior Chamber

Presentation of a beautifully engraved gavel to President Fred Norris by Percy Frampton, executive member, highlighted the weekly luncheon of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Strathcona Hotel, Thursday.

Occasion of the presentation was for excellent service rendered by the president, especially in the organization and planning of the highly successful B.C. Products Fair.

A letter of praise on the B.C. Products Fair was received from the Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. Ltd.

Justin Harbord gave an interesting address on his recent trip to California. He outlined traffic problems and highway conditions encountered on his journey, and mentioned the great traffic hazards encountered in Los Angeles. In comparing the streets of Victoria with those of cities he passed through on his trip, Mr. Harbord said: "With the exception of streets with streetcar tracks, the local roads are better than in most cities on the west coast of North America."

It was brought to the attention of members that the dance, which is to be held at the Crystal Garden on April 30, will be informal. Members were invited to bring friends.

Applause Greet Opposition To Women Delegates For Synod

Question of eligibility of women to be elected as delegates to Synod—a subject for much discussion in Anglican Synods across Canada for the past 40 years, reared its head during the closing hours of the 45th session of the Synod of the Diocese of British Columbia in Memorial Hall, Thursday afternoon, with the women making a slight gain.

A motion of Sir Henry Drayton, that the Canon Committee and the Executive Committee be requested to inquire into and report to the next session of Synod, concerning appointment of delegates to Synod having in mind the eligibility of women in that capacity, passed by a vote of 45 to 29.

There was slight clapping from the near 200 clerical and lay delegates when K. M. Lewis of St. George's-Cadboro Bay, spoke in favor of the motion. There was a thunder of "hear, hear" when T. B. Hewitt, another lay delegate from the same parish expressed his opposition to the move.

"There are apparently some in the Synod who hesitate to allow women the privilege of sending representatives to Synod. Certainly no gentleman would refuse this," said Mr. Lewis attempting to appeal to the delegates' gallantry.

He said the motion as it was put to the floor was "badly mauled" from the original, but said: "I want all you delegates to go home and tell your wives that I voted for it."

"You can all go home and tell your wives I voted against the motion," said Mr. Hewitt who admitted the "ladies were a tower of strength to the church," but considered it a cowardly act with the world in such a state, to ask the women to come and help shoulder the men's responsibility.

Bishop Sexton, who presided at the Synod session, said he did not think that passing the motion would be doing anything too rash.

"I personally have not come to any conclusion on the question for I want more time to study it," he said. "I am not interested in men's rights or women's rights, but the question is whether allowing women delegates to the Synod, will operate in the true interests of the church in this diocese."

Bishop Sexton felt that if the diocese here took one or two years to study the matter it would not be long, since the diocese of Toronto has studied it for 40 years and not yet come to a decision.

"I wrote to all bishops on the subject and I do not think the bishops favor the move on the ground they want the men to take more interest, not less."

Canon Michael Coleman said the question was which way would the church be better served. He felt the women had representation through their strong Diocesan W.A.'s and national boards.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Synod adopted a resolution which asked the Federal and Provincial Governments to take the necessary steps to introduce social security of some of the Victoria clergy with the Church-Labor group and also gave approval to the activities of that group. Canon Coleman reported on arrangements made to receive parties and groups this summer at Camp Columbia on Thetis Island, registrations for which are now being received.

Provincial Synod will meet this year at Penticton, June 16-18, and the following were elected to represent the diocese: Dean Spencer H. Elliott, Ven. A. E. de L. Nunns, Rev. H. T. Archbold, Rev. G. Biddle and R. A. Wootton, W. G. Hamilton, C. F. Banfield and H. S. Langford.

Synod commended the work and purpose of the Mothers' union in stressing the sanctity of Christian marriage, the unity of the home, and its serious concern over the increasing rate of divorce.

'Britain Greatest,' K. C. Symons Tells Oak Bay Kiwanians

"Contrary to what you may hear from those people who belittle Britain's prestige and power as a nation, England is still the greatest nation in the world today," K. C. Symons, headmaster of St. Michael's School, told members of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club, Thursday night, in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

A special St. George's Day program was arranged for the meeting by a committee of English-born members under the chairmanship of Arthur Partridge.

Mr. Symons, guest speaker of the evening, said that Britain was destined for a future glorious era. He said that he thought the

Patricia Straughan Heard In Recital

Presented in recital Thursday evening by the Victoria Musical Arts Society, Patricia Straughan, talented violinist, gave her audience a specially fine musical treat in a well-balanced program, combined with a natural charm of manner on the platform.

Miss Straughan, a Victoria girl, is a former pupil of Miss Dorothy Francis. For the past two years she has resided in Vancouver where she is studying under Jascha Galperin. She is concert mistress of the Youth Orchestra of the B.C. Institute of Music and Drama, a member of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra and is frequently heard over CBC.

In Victoria Miss Straughan will be remembered as a president of the Intermediate Musical Arts Society and as concert mistress of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra.

Numbers presented on Thursday night's program showed the growth of a sparkling technique combined with a rich singing tone and an understanding of the finer shadings of expression not always found in young violinists.

The Frederick Delius Sonata No. 2 was particularly well received as was Handel's Sonata No. 4 in D Major.

An interesting work by the great negro writer, William Grant Still, was the Suite for Violin and Piano. Here, Miss Straughan and her excellent accompanist, Miss Norma Abernethy, gave a co-ordinated performance which merits special praise.

Changes of mood in the fourth group went from the ethereal "Melodie Arabe" (Glazunov-Kochanski) and "Aubade" (Lalo Sziget) through the stirring "Improvisation" of Kabelevsky to end on a brilliant note with the De Falla - Kreisler "Spanish Dance."

Miss Straughan's encores included "Liebesfreud," by Fritz Kreisler, and her own dainty "La Petite Valse."

were Mrs. E. E. Castner, Misses Vera Curtis, Gwen Phillips, Tena Holm, Renee Cox, Valerie Cox, Donna Abbott, Shirley Coles and Alice Stevenson.

St. George's Church Plans Flower Show

The second annual flower show of St. George's Church, Cadboro Bay, will be held in the hall, April 30 at 2. Dr. H. T. Gussow, eminent botanist, will judge the exhibits. Winner of aggregate points will be presented with a silver cup, donated by Brock Whitney.

Entries must be made by Saturday. It has been announced that exhibit, and auction of tulips will take place, with proceeds to go to the church guild.

Tea will be served during the afternoon, and of special interest will be a plant stall, and decorated tables.

Clubwomen's News

Drama Club—The Victoria Women's Drama Club met recently at the home of Mrs. J. R. Terry, Cedar Hill Road. Selections of poetry were read. The next meeting will be held at North Ward Community Hall, Kings Road, Monday at 2.

Pas-a-Pas—April meeting of the Pas-a-Pas group of First United Church was held at the home of Mrs. W. McGregor, 2666 Dowsney Avenue. Devotional period was taken by Mrs. Muriel Patterson. Plans were made to assist with the tag day Saturday and a donation of $10 was also made to the Mayor's fund for food parcels for Britain. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, 3125 Beach Drive. Members will bring old linen to the meeting to be made into dressings for the cancer clinic.

Card Party—Arrangements were made to hold a whist card party for members and friends, Monday at 8 at the home of Mrs. E. Brown, 905 Hereward Street, at the Women of the Moose, Victoria Chapter, No. 23, meeting with Senior Regent H. Parker presiding. A program of entertainment took place under the supervision of Graduate Regent Van Alphen. Those taking part were the Gubbel family symphony orchestra; soloists, Mrs. J. Heller and Mrs. M. Thomas, and accordion solos by Harold McDouall. Refreshments were served by Mrs. M. Walsh and committee.

Miss M. Jones Honored

Miss M. H. Jones was presented with a life membership to the Christ Church Cathedral Women's Auxiliary of the Church of England in Canada, by members in appreciation of her service as Dorcas secretary. Miss Jones received the membership pin from Miss Mott, president of the branch, the certificate from Mrs. W. J. Neal, and Dr. Marion Sherman, diocesan president, presented her with a corsage bouquet. The ceremony was held in the guild room, Memorial Hall, on Wednesday.

P.T.A. News

North Ward—Mrs. F. Maydsley reported on the recent convention, at the North Ward P.T.A. meeting with Mrs. G. Harris presiding. A film, "Man, One Family," was shown and refreshments were served. Delegates Mrs. G. Fuller and Mrs. P. Howarth will present their reports at the next meeting.

Bride Chooses Powder Blue Gown

First Baptist Church was decorated with spring flowers April 19, for the ceremony performed by Rev. G. R. Easter, which united in marriage Mrs. Minnie Lane and Fred Strongman, both of this city. During the signing of the register, Miss Avis Butler sang "At Dawning."

A powder blue crepe gown, with two-toned sequin trimmed bodice, was worn by the bride, given in marriage by her son, G. Malcolm Lane. A Dolly Varden model hat of China-blue violets embedded in fluted tulle mohair, and bouquet of tearoses and sweetpeas completed her ensemble.

Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. Lillian Baker wore a gown of beige lace over rose taffeta with French model hat. She carried a bouquet of blue lilies and narcissi.

The groom chose as best man, Bert Butler, George Clark and Leslie Stevens suffered guests to their seats.

The bridal party with Mrs. G. M. Lane and Mrs. E. Sturgeon, welcomed guests at a reception held at the bride's home. The lace-covered table was centred with a three-tier cake flanked by crystal vases of pink carnations and matching candles. George Clark proposed the bridal toast.

The bride changed to a two-piece Jersey wool dress of lime green, with beige topcoat, black accessories and corsage bouquet of Tallsmans roses for the wedding trip to Vancouver and Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Strongman will return to make their home in the city.

Girl Guide Notes

Visits Victoria On B.C. Tour

MISS HILDA HESSON

One of Canada's most prominent women, Miss Hilda Hesson of Winnipeg, will be in Victoria next Sunday and Monday, in the course of her first tour of British Columbia since appointment as national director of the Women's Committee of Progressive Conservative Association.

While on Vancouver Island, she will also attend meetings at Duncan and Nanaimo, and, while on the coast, is visiting Vancouver and Fraser Valley.

Four times elected alderman of her home city of Winnipeg, Miss Hesson was born in Brandon, Man., and settled in Winnipeg in the early 1900's. There she became secretary and librarian of the Normal School, but in 1926 took a post as a tour conductor.

She conducted tours in Europe, was hostess aboard C.P.R. winter cruise ships and lectured in many Canadian cities and towns on the subject "travel."

Miss Hesson came home to Canada, from Europe, the day war really started between Britain and Germany, and immediately entered into war work.

She became chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., and in that capacity was in charge of delegates of 36 women's groups which co-operated in the manning of railway station "dug outs" for the armed forces. She organized troop entertainment, too, and was chairman of train reception (for returning service personnel) at Winnipeg.

Miss Hesson also found time to be public relations secretary to the Community Chest in Winnipeg.

One of the most important positions held by Miss Hesson was that of national president of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which she held for two years.

Last summer, she was Canadian delegate to the federation's first postwar board meeting in Brussels.

Miss Hesson will return to Vancouver next Wednesday, and on the way east will spend May 1 and 2 in Kamloops.

'Secret' Cancer Cure Practised By Woman

SYDNEY MINES, N.S. (CP)—Sixty-year-old Mrs. Catherine MacPherson, who started out on her own a few months ago as a "cancer doctor" backed by the faith of some 8,000 miners, is carrying on despite the fact the Maritime coal strike has cut off her $400 a month check-off from miners' pay envelopes.

Mrs. MacPherson, who holds no medical degrees, learned a cancer treatment from her husband, Donald Bernard MacPherson before his death early this year.

The treatment, said to be most effective on easily accessible cases, consists of the application of poultices. Mrs. MacPherson is training a daughter in the technique.

Workers (C.C.L.) Locals in Cape Breton—contributed a monthly check-off of five cents towards the cancer "protection."

Mrs. MacPherson says her "secret" method was brought to Canada by a Roman Catholic priest, Rev. John Grant, who learned it from a German monk.

Mrs. MacPherson, for official purposes, is in the category of a practical nurse. She therefore needs no medical license. She has an average of 20 or more patients under treatment.

PREFER WIVES WITH HUMAN FOIBLES TO DOORMATS WITHOUT FAULT

A young bride-to-be tells me that she is going to try to be the perfect wife. Um, Hum. A laudable ambition and one with which most young wives start out. But how does the old spiritual go? "Everybody that talks about Heaven ain't going there." And it is that way about marriage.

Probably every bride thinks she is going to scrap her temper and her nerves and her arguing habit and her bossiness at the altar, and that she will no longer have a yen for pretty clothes and good times. All that she will want to make her perfectly happy will be just to burn incense before her husband.

But, alas and alack, it seldom happens that way. Generally the bride's plan of being the perfect wife goes blotto, and by the time Angel Face and her Dream Man have gotten their wedding presents unpacked, they have reverted to type and are fighting over the coffee tasting like dish-water and arguing over the bills. Just like other married couples.

Now far be it from me to wet-blanket any young bride's effort to be a perfect wife. Heaven knows, husbands, even the best of them, are kittle cattle to deal with, possessed of strange tastes and habits and peculiarities which no bride suspected her husband of having. This makes it impossible for any wife to ever come up to her husband's ideal, unless she is a miracle-worker who can run her house on air and who lets him tell her what he thinks she thinks.

BRIDES FEEL LIKE FAILURES

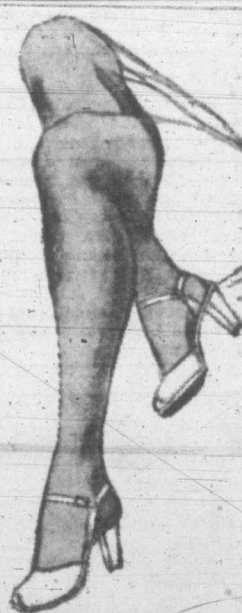

Not being able to perform these parlor tricks makes many a bride feel that she has fallen down in her efforts to be a perfect wife. Else why, she tearfully asks herself, should John be always criticizing her, instead of complimenting her and telling her how lucky he is to have gotten a combined glamour girl and cash register for a wife? So I would give this crumb of comfort to the young wives who feel that they have not come up to their husband's expectations.

Quit trying to be a perfect wife. You can't be one. And, if you could, your husband wouldn't want you. The last thing that any man desires is a perfect wife. She would present a too invidious comparison to himself. A wife who was always right, who never said or did a foolish thing or made a mistake, would drive any man to drink or the divorce courts. What every husband wants is a wife who is a blundering human being like himself, whom he can bawl out and forgive when she does something silly, and kiss and make up and feel noble.

Don't take your husband's fault-finding too seriously. Half the time it is just his way of blowing his own horn and calling your attention to what a grand husband he is, and how thankful you should be that God vouchsafed you one who could give you a good home and a car and a charge account at the best stores. When he complains about your ruining him with your extravagance he doesn't really want you to pinch pennies and as if you came off of the bargain counter. He is just showing off. He wants you to be a living advertisement of what a go-getter he is.

And so it does. Every man wants a good wife, but not a perfect wife. Which may not be according to Hoyle, but is according to life.

'Trail Street' Gripping Drama

"Trail Street," now at the Dominion Theatre tells a big story and has been given a production worthy of its scope. Romance, comedy and music finds their places in its unfolding, making it one of the year's best outdoor dramas.

ATLAS THEATRE

Louis Calhern, one of Hollywood's outstanding character actors, was summoned back from the New York stage by Director Alfred Hitchcock to portray one of the top roles in "Notorious," which is being shown at the Atlas Theatre, which co-stars Cary Grant and Ingrid Bergman for RKO Radio.

Cahern's importance as an actor both in Hollywood and on the New York stage has skyrocketed since his portrayals in "Life With Father" and "Jacobowsky and the Colonel" on Broadway. In "Notorious," Calhern portrays the chief of a government bureau in Brazil which co-operates with the authorities in breaking up German underground activities.

PLAZA THEATRE

"Magnificent Doll," now at the Plaza Theatre, is also the story of Aaron Burr, the "Magnificent Heel" of American history. Starring Ginger Rogers, David Niven and Burgess Meredith, the Skirball-Manning production for Universal release was directed by Frank Borzage. Famed biographer Irving Stone wrote the original story and screenplay.

YORK THEATRE

Ken Carpenter, whose radio announcing has plugged everything from stockings to soups, has the role of narrator in "Breakfast in Hollywood," the United Artists release, now at the York Theatre. "Sunset and Vine in Hollywood" isn't exactly the place you expect to find a crowd of people at 6 or 7 a.m., he says "I know it is the last place I expected to find myself... in pictures! But when you start messing with this Breneman guy, anything can happen... and mostly in the morning."

The picture, built around Tom Breneman's morning radio show features an all-star cast. It is a Robert S. Golden production.

RIO THEATRE

The son of Robin Hood, the character which is now being portrayed in a Columbia film by Cornel Wilde, has been drawn for newspaper syndication as a comic strip by cartoonist Pat L. Harrison, it was disclosed recently.

The story line and dialogue is by Paul Castleton, author of the novel, "Son of Robin Hood," which was bought by Columbia and was filmed in technicolor as "The Bandit of Sherwood Forest," currently playing at the Rio Theatre.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"The Wicked Lady," starring Margaret Lockwood and James Mason, is today at the Oak Bay Theatre. Filmgoers will remember the dramatic scenes between these two stars in "The Man in Grey" and will look forward eagerly to seeing Margaret Lockwood as Barbara, who has a love affair with the gallant highwayman, Capt. Jackson, played by James Mason, in this film. Re-united with the two stars is director Leslie Arliss, who directed them in "The Man in Grey."

College Students Writing Exams

More than 400 students at Victoria College were struggling with examinations Thursday afternoon. Shown above are 120 first year students writing English in the auditorium. This morning first year classes were writing mathematics, while the second year write English this afternoon. Examinations will be finished next Friday, but some of the first years are finishing up this week. Results will be announced May 14, Miss Dorothy Cruickshank, registrar, said today, but announcement of scholarship and prize winners will be held until early in July to give those attending the spring session an opportunity to compete.

SOUND TEST RIB STILL A CLASSIC

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Hollywood is full of practical jokesters, but Norma Shearer's rib at the expense of Ralph Morgan is still a classic. Ralph came out to Hollywood from New York to make his film debut with Norma and Clark Gable in "Strange Interlude."

The first day on the lot they said they wanted to test Ralph's voice. He was taken to a sound stage filled with electricians, prop men, sound and camera men. They led him to a microphone and told him to say with different intonations, "What am I doing here?"

Ralph started: "What AM I doing here? What AM I doing HERE? What AM I DOING here? WHAT AM I doing here?" Suddenly Norma Shearer's voice came from the sound booth. "Ralph, you're just making a damn fool of yourself as far as I can see."

PRO PERFORMANCE

Director Otto Preminger had some difficulty in teaching Linda Darnell the fine points of murder for a strangling scene in "Angebot."

"Why are you so particular?" asked Linda.

"Well," said Otto, ducking, "you wouldn't want some fan who is a murderer, writing in to complain that your technique was amateurish, would you?"

Leave it to the younger generation. Red Skelton was driving down Sunset in one of those fancy new station wagons when a "hot rod" pulled up beside him, at a stop signal. "Hey," yelled the teen-age driver, "when are you going to take that car out of its crate?"

Movie trick of the week: A special contraption built to make two-hump camels into one-hump dromedaries for a scene in "Atlantis." Isn't anything in Hollywood real?

CAPITOL THEATRE

In Bracken's current Paramount comedy, "Ladies' Man," now at the Capitol Theatre, he is an Oklahoma farmer whose water spouted oil one morning. Sudden riches get Eddie to Manhattan and more trouble—the type of trouble that tickles a movie fan's ribs because it might well befall anyone any time. Bracken is starred in "Ladies' Man" with Cass Daley, Virginia Welles and Spike Jones and his City Slickers.

MYRNA LOY AND FREDERIC MARCH in Samuel Goldwyn's star-studded drama, "The Best Years of Our Lives," coming Monday to the Oak Bay Theatre.

School Drama Festival

'Night Of The Trojan War' Praised By Adjudicator

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

A Mount View High School entry, directed by Dr. J. M. Thomas, dominated the Thursday evening event in the School Drama Festival. The session was held at Mount View High School and drew a large audience who were complimented by Roth Gordon, Vancouver adjudicator, for the tribute which their close attention paid the excellent work presented.

Mr. Gordon prefaced his adjudication with comment on the wide variety represented by the choice of play. "Here we have had the whole range of drama, from deep tragedy, movingly and beautifully presented, through comedy touched with pathos, to straight farce," he said.

The fact that one play had an all boy cast, the next, all girl and the final, mixed, had helped to make the program unique in interest as it presented important comparisons.

MOUNT VIEW HIGH

"XO: A Night of the Trojan War," by John Drinkwater; presented by Mount View High School, under the direction of Dr. J. M. Thomas.

Cast:
Prox - Dale Kishner
Sublimus - Pat Thomas
Cady - David Routley
Greek Sentinel - Doug. Fraumlin
Greek Sentinel - John Bachold.

"One of the highlights of the festival," was Mr. Gordon's summing up of this entry. It was an excellent play and a magnificent production. For the direction, he had nothing but thanks to Dr. Thomas for doing this play and making such a success of it in spite of the miserably inadequate stage and other facilities. It was proof that such handicaps need not prevent fine dramatic presentation. The cast was uniformly good, obviously sincere and their speech rhythm had a true reverence for the lovely lines. They felt and understood what they were saying. There was good balance and contrast, both physically and vocally between the soldier and the poet. Even the small walk-on part of the Greek sentinel, characterized by Mr. Gordon as "A spear-holding part" was beautifully done. The backstage effects were phenomenal, he said.

PATHOS LACKING

"Joint Owners in Spain," by Alice Brown; presented by Mount Newton High School, under direction of Bernard Webber.

Cast:
Mrs. Mitchell - Edith French
Mrs. Fullerton - Barbara Boone
Mrs. Blair - Elsie Neilson
Miss Oyer - Anne Novatia
Stage manager - Mildred French.

"This was a good play, well worth doing, the adjudicator said. The cast presented the comedy very ably, but failed to instill the element of pathos, without which the meaning of the play is lost. However this was a good performance, only marred by small technical faults which would be easily corrected.

YOUNGSTERS ENJOY PLAY

Cast:
Bob - Tom Ballard
Archie - Blair Little Ted - Ray Chalk
Alice - Maxine Musick
Miss Tisdale - Coral Winter
Miss Grayson - Max Robinson
Mr. Grayson - Ronald Sibbald.

High School, under the direction of G. C. Thomson. This play was not of a high literary quality, dramatically speaking, Mr. Gordon said. There was too much talking. The production was fundamentally sound, he felt, but lacked fine detail needed for a really satisfactory result. There could have been more movement on the stage and the players were inclined to speak too fast and did not wait for their laughs. But the youngsters enjoyed it and certainly took the farce at a good pace.

During the intermissions, instrumental numbers were given by students who included Edith and Margaret McGill, Jean Neilson and Betty Sinclair. This evening's plays at Oak Bay High School will include "The Name Is Johnston," presented by Quilicum Beach Boys' School, and two complimentary entries: "The Duchess Says Her Prayers" by the St. Barnabas Players and "The Ghost Train" Act I, by Vancouver's John Oliver High School.

the New Way

to take VITAMINS...for better results!

Take them in fortified food—the delicious Ovaltine way!

Of course, the whole subject of vitamins is new. We learn more about them every day. And today, millions are learning a new and better way to take their extra vitamins—a more modern, more natural way that can do more good. Discarding earlier methods of taking vitamins alone, they now take them in fortified food!

For latest evidence shows that vitamins do not work alone. They work most effectively in combination with certain other food elements—which are absolutely necessary for best results.

This is the reason so many people are changing to Ovaltine. A specially-fortified supplementary food-drink—it contains—besides vitamins—nearly every precious food element needed for good health. Especially, those elements necessary for vitamin effectiveness.

For example, Vitamin A and protein are both necessary in cell-building. Vitamin B₁ and energy food act together for sparkling vitality. Vitamin D, Calcium and Phosphorus also need each other. You get them all in a glass of Ovaltine made with milk!

So why not turn to Ovaltine, as many people are doing? If you're eating normal meals, 2 glasses of Ovaltine give you all the extra vitamins and minerals you need for robust health.

Authorities say many people should get extra vitamins and minerals. Reasons include improper selection of food, vitamin deficiencies of many modern foods—also loss of vitamin-mineral values due to shipping, storing and cooking.

Boost In Old Age Pensions May Be Proposed At Ottawa Monday

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition members of the Commons, getting in their annual bid for increased pensions for the aged and the blind, were told by Health Minister Martin Thursday a resolution preliminary to a bill amending the Old Age Pensions Act would be introduced Monday.

Although Mr. Martin gave no details, there has been speculation that the new bill will increase by between $5 and $10 a month the present basic pension of $20 a month. It is believed the legislation will also ease the conditions under which a pension may be obtained.

Across the Dominion the pensions now range from $25 to $35 a month. During the war the Dominion, by order-in-council, decided to pay the aged a $3 supplement to help meet increased living costs. Some provinces paid an additional $5 supplement and recently British Columbia increased the amount to $10. Mr. Martin made his statement as members reached a section of the main control bill which would give the government authority to continue the wartime supplement until the new legislation is enacted.

Earlier, by a vote of 105 to 31, members defeated a C.C.F. amendment which would have killed the wartime order-in-council giving the government authority to move Japanese residents from British Columbia's coastal areas and relocate them elsewhere in Canada. Four Liberals and two Progressive Conservative members voted for the motion.

Members then quickly passed on division—without a formal vote—sections prohibiting the granting of fishing licenses to Japanese, and sections dealing with the disposition of Japanese property.

In the Senate, approval was given a bill to make the week of April 10 National Wild Life Week.

Man Lost Life; No Assistance Given

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — The coroner's jury which inquired into the death of Jerome McDougall of Westbank, B.C., Thursday strongly condemned the "callous manner in which the witnesses of the accident acted by neglecting to call or render assistance."

Indian witnesses, with whom McDougall had been quarrelling, said his horse reared and fell over on him. Assisted to his horse, he slid to the ground a few minutes later and reportedly was ignored.

Police said McDougall had been dead several hours before they were notified. The jury decided he met death by misadventure.

Newspaper Warns Wheat Exporters

LONDON (Reuters) — The Financial Times, commenting today on failure of the International Wheat Conference here to produce an agreement, warned exporting countries their period of exceptional prosperity must one day end.

"Refusal of the British to sign the agreement produced by the International Wheat Conference shows the fundamental weakness of any combined attempt by producers and consumers of major food raw material to control production, exports and maximum and minimum prices," the editorial said. "Opinions, in particular on the correct price range, are almost bound to clash."

The editorial added: "The trouble is that certain supplying countries appear to have become intoxicated by their current prosperity, which to them seems natural and permanent. The position, however, will change—in time. And it would be better to postpone any further conference until supplies are more plentiful and ideas of the correct price range consequently are more reasonable."

Tenders Received For U.B.C. Building

Five sets of tenders of construction of the applied science building at the University of British Columbia, which will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, to complete, were opened Thursday by the provincial works department.

Lowest bid for the general contract was $633,207 submitted by Marwell Construction Co. Other tenders were submitted by Bennett & White Co., $724,000, and Dawson & Hall Ltd., $798,610.

Lowest bidder on the tender for the electrical installation was Hume & Rumble Ltd., $122,015. J. H. McRae Co. tendered to do this work for $123,345, and Elworthy Co. Ltd., for $130,756. Barr & Anderson, $66,612, submitted the lowest tender for the heating and ventilating contract. Others were submitted by Lockert & Hole Ltd., $67,386; Leek & Co. Ltd., $71,472, and Fred Welsh & Son, $72,609.

The plumbing contract drew the lowest bid from Fred Welsh & Son, $34,316. Lockert & Hole tendered to do the job for $34,360, while Barr & Anderson submitted a tender of $38,572, and Leek & Co., of $38,878.

A bid of $107,865 submitted by Barr & Anderson was the lowest for the equipment and machinery contract. Fred Welsh & Son tendered to do this work for $109,705, while Leek & Co. submitted a bid of $119,607.

In each case except the equipment and machinery tenders, bids were submitted for the work excluding the installations on the fourth floor and the third and fourth floors.

ONE-MINUTE NEWS ABOUT

DISCOVERS "GOLD" ACCIDENTALLY!

By sheer accident, John Sutter discovered gold in California. But it took research to make another mineral discovered in California so useful that it is called the "white gold" of industry.

From this unusual material "diatomaceous silica," Johns-Manville produces a Celite which has proved invaluable to industry. As a basis for insulations alone, Celite saves industry a fortune in fuel every year. It has a thousand and one other uses also. It's used to filter sugar, beverages and even vital medicines. It's part of your matches, paint, silver polish and rubber overshoes.

J.M. research has made Celite a mighty valuable product. For full details on how Celite can be used in your industry, write Canadian Johns-Manville, 1206 Homer St., Vancouver.

Trade License Fees Set Record In 1946

The city of Victoria collected the highest revenues in its history from trade license fees during 1946, D. A. MacDonald, city comptroller, reported to Thursday's meeting of the estimates committee, when $129,955 was taken in from this source.

Previous high mark was in 1945 when $119,037 was collected. The imposition of trade license fees was started in 1919 Mr. MacDonald showed in his report when $44,195 was collected. In 1922 the rates collectable were raised to three times the original figure with a maximum of $200,000 set.

At this time, he stated, the Publicity Bureau was given $25,000 to aid in its work, and it is on this grounds that the bureau this year sent a delegation to the council asking that the grant be raised from $12,000 to $20,000, which was where it stood from 1935 to 1941 inclusive. The grant was cut in 1942 to $8,000 because of the war, when it was considered inadvisable to try and induce tourists to come to Victoria.

Ald. B. J. Gadsden and Ald. R. A. C. Dewar were among the staunchest supporters of the Publicity Bureau plea in the council meeting, stressing that the tourist trade is big business for Victoria and that it is becoming more highly competitive all the time. Mayor Percy George also favored giving the increased donation.

After a brief discussion the grant was raised from $12,000 to $20,000.

Victoria Public Library Board has applied to the City Council for a grant of $100 toward the entertainment of Canadian librarians who will attend the first Canadian Library Association conference in Vancouver June 24 to 26, and who will visit Victoria June 27. It is anticipated 100 will attend.

CHEAP LUMBER
Cheap lumber at less than the price of wood. This lumber cannot be sold commercially at the sawmills because of being offsize, too much hard splits, check or pitch streaks, but hundreds of loads are being sold, and pieces picked out to repair barns, sidewalks, fences and garden stakes. Even if all this lumber were cut into wood it would be cheaper inside wood and a load will make about 1 1/2 cords. Especially handy for people who live outside of town and find it hard to get wood.

B.C. To Call Bids In May On Building To House Overflow

Tenders will be called by the provincial works department early next month for the construction of a temporary provincial government office building to the rear of the Parliament Buildings, it was learned today.

The building will be of two stories and have a total floor space of 6,000 square feet. It will be replaced by a permanent building on Belleville Street between Government and Douglas Streets when material and labor are available.

While start on the permanent building may not be undertaken for some time, the government has set aside $1,000,000 in the 1947-48 public works department estimates for the building.

Last Rites Monday For Dr. S. J. Willis

Funeral services for Dr. S. J. Willis, chairman of Victoria College council and former deputy minister of education for the British Columbia government, who died Thursday, will be conducted from Metropolitan Church at 3 Monday afternoon, it was learned today.

The body will lie in state at the church for three hours before the funeral service which will be conducted by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse.

Still Dig Mine For 11 Trapped

MALARTIC, Que. (CP) — Weary rescue teams who worked all night under lights pressed deeper into the East Malartic gold mine today in a bid to reach 11 miners trapped for nearly 36 hours more than 2,000 feet beneath the surface.

Assistant Mine Manager W. Griffin said "there really is nothing new to report today." There still was hope the 11 trapped men would be reached, but Griffin said "it is difficult to tell" if they were still alive.

Shasta Cafe Robbed

Thieves who broke into the Shasta Cafe, 1009 Government Street, in the early hours of Thursday morning, escaped with $439 in bills, city police reported today.

According to Miss L. Antrobus of the cafe, the premises were entered between 2 and 6.35 in the morning and entrance was gained by going over the roof of the Island Farms Co-operative Association, 408 Broughton Street, then taking the wire off a window leading into the cafe building.

The padlock was forced off a drawer in the cupboard near the front window. Detective Louis Callan is investigating.

City Teen-Agers To Discuss Banning 8c Chocolate Bars

The chocolate bar strike in Victoria and Vancouver Island is on Mrs. Helen Simpson, advisor of the Victoria Teen Town Club, said individual members of the club had expressed their opposition to purchase of 8-cent bars, but said the club itself had not made any statement as yet.

"However, we are having a dance and program Saturday night at the club and I feel the matter will be brought up at that time," she said.

First to shut their wallets and pocketbooks in the face of the rising cost of living are the youngsters, who refuse to pay 8 cents for the one-time nickel chocolate bar. The strike is unofficial in Victoria yet, but seems to be gathering momentum.

Picketing has not been noted here but elsewhere on the island, the children are making their boycott felt, even to picketing adults who have been seen coming from stores with candy bars in hand.

The strike is on at Chemainus and Ladysmith with every indication of spreading to Duncan, Cobble Hill, Nanaimo, Parksville, Qualicum Beach, Courtenay, Comox, Campbell River and Port Alberni.

From Chemainus this morning came news the youngsters are walking around with printed cards on dresses and jackets bearing such words as: "Let the penny-pinchers have theirs. We want nickel bars," or "Before you asked for bars on your knees. Now they throw them in your face."

COST MORE TO PRODUCE

W. Hitchcock, manager at E. A. Morris Ltd., said candy manufacturers released a summary on the increased costs of production.

"That summary showed that it was utterly impossible for them to operate economically on the former basis," he said. "One item alone was a 97 per cent increase in wages."

At Chemainus the store clerks disclosed that no children purchased chocolate bars Thursday, despite adequate supplies and tempting counter displays. Many sales were made in the up-island centre, however, by adults.

At Ladysmith there were several cases reported of adults being picketed by children for buying "inflation bars." Placards have been pinned up in the business sections of Chemainus and Ladysmith with the Teen Town groups solidly supporting the move.

SALE DEFINITE DOWN

"This has been a very quiet week in the city but sale of chocolate bars is definitely down," the always-smiling Marguerite Fontana, who with her sister Lillian operates the Capitol Confectionery. "We will know better by Saturday what the situation is."

"Many have stopped buying bars since the price increased to 8 cents. It looks as if the children have got together and decided not to buy."

Armored Car Comes To Town To Displace Canvas Money Bags

Victoria's easy-going way of carrying money to the banks will undergo a change next week. An armored car is coming to town and will be at the call of merchants.

Frederick B. Rice, general sales manager of the Loomis Armored Car Service, Seattle, Wash., is in Victoria today with Eric Stafford, Vancouver representative. They are consulting with Fred O. Sutton, local manager. The armored car will arrive next Tuesday and be in service the following day.

The car is similar to those used in all large cities and is both armored and armed. It has all kinds of gadgets and a double compartment with dual control. It is equipped with a siren for use in an emergency.

For many years Victorians have been accustomed to see business men carrying their money to the banks in canvas bags. When the bags are light bags, they tuck them under their arm when they are heavy they sling them on their shoulders. This is a carry over from an easy-going age but representatives of the Loomis service say that Victoria is now regarded as a city of 100,000 people and that greater care should be taken in the handling of money.

Since the start of the Second World War Victoria has undergone many changes. Last month the police commission decided to do away with the old-time helmets and uniforms of its policemen, which had been so popular with tourists. Now comes the armored car.

To Seek Legislation To Raise Standard Of Plumbing In B.C.

Need of a provincial plumbing code to raise the standard of installation and sanitation in British Columbia, was stressed by M. L. Barr, president, who opened the two-day convention of the B.C. section of National Association of Master Plumbers and Heating Contractors of Canada at the Empress Hotel today.

More than 60 delegates from all parts of British Columbia were present at the opening session which discussed national topics, including a suggestion for a National Plumbing Week to follow after Clean-Up Week.

Mr. Barr in his opening address said the plumbing association would seek legislation to raise the standard of plumbing throughout the province and to improve business ethics of the industry.

Walter Leek of Vancouver, national president, urged the organization to establish an overall national program dealing chiefly with education and business ethics, but which would not interfere with the business practices of individual provinces.

"I wish all trades were national in scope," he said. "It improves national unity and aids industry."

He said he believed the year 1946-47 would go down in history as one of the most trying periods for industry. But, despite the shortage of materials, he added, it had been a good year financially.

RED SEAL GUARANTEE

Reconsideration of a "Red Seal" of good plumbing approved by the 1946 National Convention, was urged by E. M. McCaffrey, secretary, who pointed out that such a trade mark would help

Magistrate Reserves Decision On Charge On Stolen Diamonds

Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court today remanded to next Wednesday to give a decision on the application of Joseph McKenna, defence counsel for Dennis W. Delane, charged with the possession of stolen diamonds, after hearing argument for withdrawal of accused's plea of guilty recorded Tuesday morning.

Delane was called to the witness box by Mr. McKenna to state his reasons why he changed his plea of not guilty on Monday to one of guilty on Tuesday. He said he wished his plea changed again because police had failed to live up to their promises to him.

The defence counsel quoted previous cases he alleged were similar to the present circumstances, but Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, pointed out he was opposing withdrawal of the plea on the grounds that there was not one principal in all the cases quoted by Mr. McKenna to connect it with the Delane case.

Magistrate Hall said that he could not digest the judgments quoted by the defence lawyer, in a few minutes and remanded the case until next week.

Stop Sunday Games At Athletic Park

Sunday baseball will be prohibited in Royal Athletic Park it was decided by the parks committee Thursday, Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman, reported today, to protect the field from undue wear and tear. However, the ball-players will still be permitted to use MacDonald Park for Sunday games.

At the request of Rev. W. N. Byers, field secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, the taking of a day collection for Sunday games will be prohibited, Ald. McTavish said, but the passing of a collection plate among the spectators will be permitted.

The city solicitor has been asked to investigate regulations governing the use of barbed wire fencing in city parks, Ald. McTavish said. The committee is in favor of having a by-law permitting its use on high fences in certain restricted areas, such as Athletic Park.

John Pearson, executive field worker for the Parks and Recreation Association of Canada, will consult with the committee when he visits Victoria May 7 and 8.

The parks department has received $400 from Robert Noel, in payment for the advertising concession on fences at Athletic Park, Ald. McTavish reported. This is the third and final year of Mr. Noel's contract.

Many Call To Check Recovered Jewelry

People who have had jewelry stolen for years back are among those who have called in at the detective office of the Victoria Police Department during the last few days to look over the large collection of rings, watches necklaces and other articles which Detectives Angus Munro and Louis Callan rounded up last week.

A great deal of the recovered stolen property has already been claimed by citizens who had their homes robbed in recent months.

Noted Church Worker Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Adelaide Bell "Monti" Sanford of 1667 Yale Street, Oak Bay, who passed away suddenly from a heart attack in her home Thursday night, was well known on the coast for her outstanding contributions to church groups.

Described by her friends as one of the most willing workers of St. Mary's Church, Mrs. Sanford convened for the Columbia Coast Mission Group of St. Mary's Senior W.A. and was recording secretary of the senior women's auxiliary.

Prior to coming to the city, Mrs. Sanford was actively engaged in church work in Duncan and New Westminster. She was vitally interested in the welfare of children's societies.

Mrs. Sanford was the daughter of the late Alexander and Emilie Montizambert and is survived by her husband, Ernest Gerald Sanford, former manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here.

Funeral service will be held at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, Monday at 11. Cremation will follow.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans will be reconvened in the club auditorium at 8 next Tuesday.

Attempt Made To Burn Home Being Built

Children are believed responsible for an attempt to set fire to a house under construction at 2659 Prior Street Wednesday evening, city police report. The owner told police he found an old pair of pants and some paper against the cribbing on fire.

Building permits have been issued to A. A. Waterworth to build a five-room house at 305 Arnold Avenue, $6,500; to H. R. Paulin to construct living quarters above 1323 Government Street, $2,000; and for erection of a six-room house at 18 Cambridge Street, $7,000.

Premier Hart Leaves Tuesday For Ottawa On B.C. Problems

Premier John Hart will leave Victoria Tuesday afternoon for Ottawa to confer with Prime Minister King on various British Columbia problems.

The two major problems the Premier has to put before the Dominion government concern the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and social security phases of the Dominion-provincial agreements.

During the session of the Provincial Legislature which ended earlier this month, Mr. Hart said he would call on the Dominion government to carry out its plans of calling a Dominion-provincial conference on the "Green Book" social security measures, including old-age pension payments.

Mr. Hart had received the assurance of Mr. King that this conference would be called as soon as a sufficient number of provinces had signed Dominion-provincial tax agreements.

Mr. Hart is seeking to enlist the support of the Dominion government in extending the provincially-owned P.G.E. railway into the Peace River district. Since previous discussions with the Dominion government, the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway further information on the resources of the area the proposed extended railway would traverse and on the available grades for the route has been gathered by the provincial government survey parties in the area. This information, it is expected, will be placed before the government and the railway companies.

Mayor's Fund Tag Day To Be Held Saturday

Everything is in readiness for the tag day for the Mayor's Fund for Parks for Britain, to be held in all four municipalities of Greater Victoria Saturday, Mayor Percy George reported today.

To date donations for the fund brought in to the City Hall amount to $2,371.

Receipts from the program at the football game being held in MacDonald Park Saturday afternoon will be given to the fund, and taggers will be on hand to collect donations.

The B.C. Electric Railway has offered the loan of its coin-

Exhibition Series

CALGARY (CP)—Montreal

Canadiens and National League

All-Stars dished up an entertaining

brand of hockey here last night

with the Canucks putting over a smart 8 to 3 victory. Close to 4,000 fans watched the thrilling exhibition.

Maurice Richard demonstrated

his ability on more than one occasion

and his two goals were masterpieces. Kenny Reardon

particularly caught the eye with his peculiar style of skating and his regular rink-length dashes

that always ended in payoff territory.

Bill Durnan proved a tower of strength in the nets for Canadiens

as time sped again he stopped incoming forwards when it appeared they had sure goals.

At the other end of the rink,

Broda played well, but had little defensive strength in front of him.

Richard topped Canadian marksmen with two goals with the others coming from the sticks of Chamberlain, Peters,

Reardon, Fillion, Gravelle and

Cargue. Jim Conacher, Syd Abel

and Max Bentley scored for the

Troublesome Nanaimo Team Engage United Tomorrow

When the Victoria United take the field for the second game of the Anderson Cup series at MacDonald Park tomorrow against Nanaimo, they will meet a team that has always given them trouble.

Coslier's eleven has a record for second half play in the Coast League that is unmatched, but regardless of that fact, Nanaimo beat the locals 4 to 3 in an overtime game two weeks ago in the first game of the series. In previous Coast League matches Uke Grey and his up-island mates have played the locals on even terms and certainly taken advantage of their scoring chances when matched with the United.
